

Project-based activities process map: benchmark rating

This process map shows the steps businesses must follow to receive Victorian energy efficiency certificates (VEECs) using the benchmark rating pathway.

We may elect to do a site inspection at certain stages of this process.

For all documents and forms related to this process, visit www.esc.vic.gov.au/pba.

¹ To obtain a rating, you must measure for a total of 12 months. You must complete the baseline measurement within the 18 months before project works start.

* You can start undertaking work on site before this stage is complete.
