

Tim O'Reilly

Unreasonable pricing

9/2/16

Dear Sir/Madam,

I recently received a bill from my power company. During that period I had generated half of the electricity that I used. However because of the unfair pricing strategies allowed by the government I still had to pay more than three quarters of my power bill. This is manifestly unfair, and it is ridiculous that householders who have invested in solar panels should be discriminated against in such a manner.