The Chief Officer

Don't worry about how many people didn't turn up to the meeting, most people in Ballarat are in survival mode.

The continuous "gouging" by all the utility groups,[Council, Phone, Gas, Power, Water] sees a lot of people going backwards around Ballarat.

Wrote in to our Local Member [who told me she tabled my letter on the outrage water charges] when CHW they had initially advised the proposed rises Suggested they could do without many of the Board Members, White Hats &st engaging some value for money Contractors.....

Water falls free from the sky, with the now "supposed costs "to harness this Es: Service, way out of acceptable boundaries.

EG: The engineers who originally set up Ballarat's Water Supply, [for free up unt would be turning over in their graves , if they saw what people are now having to The public servants[who don't produce anything] need to start realising ,the Tax keep them in a job.

The gravy train needs to be drastically reduced by quite a few carriages, so that average person can afford to live.

Otherwise , we instead of progressing, are going to regress even further.

Noted we have now reached 23 million in population !

The rainfall in Australia is only sufficient to support 30 million people, so some fair dinkum measures need to be instigated fairly soon on addressing,

JUST WHAT ARE PEOPLE GOING TO DRINK???????
