

Jenny Macgill

Solar feed in tariffs

12/2/16

To Whom It May Concern

As an investor in our future I committed to solar in 2009. Since and indeed before that time the shocking turning of the back of subseqAustralian Governments to solar power development and recognition of the benefits of solar power has dismayed me. Considering the way Australians have embraced solar should tell government at all levels that the elected representatives of Australians